Raiven Capital

Raiven Capital is a global venture fund with hubs in Silicon Valley, Toronto, London, and Dubai, and concentrates on investments just before scaling begins. Focused on the intersection of Artificial Intelligence, 5G and the Internet of Things, Raiven actively seeks founders that optimize supply chains across cybersecurity, finance, energy, environment, health, medical devices, and food. Once growth is robust, Raiven exits its portfolio companies to later-stage capital in Silicon Valley and beyond.

We believe our real, in-the-trenches experience brings invaluable leverage to the companies we invest in - connecting them to the right resources at the right time. Unlike other funds, specific partners are assigned to each investment for its entire life-cycle. Our cross-functional global teams bring a wealth of experience, developing strong cultures within our portfolio companies. We help them grow faster and smarter.

We value integrity, curiosity, and creativity. Our respect for these values supports our culture where innovation and truth co-exist and reinforce each other. With this approach, Raiven creates outstanding trust between our founders, investors, and communities.
